

WILD & WACKY SCIENCE

Ages: Early Childhood to 3rd Grade

Kids of all ages are curious about what makes our world work! We have a science show, starring one of our favorite performers, that helps children understand a few of the scientific principles that spark their curiosity!

This program is wonderful, helping bring those scientific theories and truths to kids while entertaining them with humor and magic! Some of the scientific principles talked about in this show are air displacement, water evaporation and needles that can penetrate solid latex products! There is even a group game with imaginative play!

This is a great show for kids who want to learn about how things work! If you have any questions about this show or any of the other shows at our agency, we would love to talk with you! You can reach us at 214-886-4243. We look forward to helping you find the perfect show for your party, school or event!
